The sweeping security operations come after days of unrest

Dhaka: The security forces in Bangladesh have arrested as many as 1,308 individuals from across the country as part of the ongoing "Operation Devil Hunt" launched to curb nationwide incidents of mob attacks and vandalism. The operation was launched by Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus-led interim government on Saturday after student activists were injured in Gazipur last week during vandalism at a former Awami League Minister's home.

The joint operation involving the police and other specialised units arrested at least 274 people from metropolitan areas and another 1,034 from other parts of
